(*) LA BOITE VISUAL ART

La Boite Visual Art is a "greenhouse atelier", where projects - personal or commissioned - born, incubate, develop following knowledge's rhythm, inspiration and savoir-faire. This transmedial culture, where different expression ways are side by side (and sometime they crash), is an ideal loam for discovering...

In 1992, inside the Zone 33 Bern - a post-production center focused on image and sound - a sector with an accent on virtual images emerges. This department is called La Boite - the box - in reference to the space where it's placed: the screening room, entirely light proof. For a long period, the Atelier has a (secondary) residence in south Switzerland and, in 1997, La Boite Visual Art moves ultimately in Locarno. The current management of the Atelier is assured by Patricia Boillat and Elena Gugliuzza.

La Boite Visual Art creations are divided in two hemispheres, still design and motion design. Still design embraces graphics, photography, architecture, object design, installation. Motion design combines filmmaking, computer animation, image editing, visual effects and performance. Certain projects rebound from one hemisphere to the other, generating a multiple facets' work.

As filmmakers, from 1997 Patricia and Elena have realized several personal projects, before embarking on the documentary film Nando, andata et ritorno, followed by C.A.L.L.E. and Due Tempi, screened in several European festivals. Latest films produced by the atelier are Coup d'état, Blackbox³ the film and Absence. Absence has been selected at the 27th Torino Film Festival, at 46th Journées de Soleure and at Clermont-Ferrand film market 2010. Isola, là dove si parla la lingua di Bacco, creative full-length documentary film, is now in post-production.
